The image of Amanda Wasielewski is boring and un-inspired. Amandaists and their icon fail in every aspect from every vantage point and at every junction in realizing the goals of the Amandaism movement. For these reasons and sentiments, I urge you to take an anti-Amandaist stance now.

The image is just a façade masking a shallow, deeply dangerous ignorance, presented in the most radiant of possible lights. Blinded by these lights, followers flock to obvious propaganda and the movement's malicious, selfserving ends. This vehicle of artistic expression, artistic statement, communication, selfishness, self-fulfillment, activism, and activity is broken down. The wheels have fallen off. Perhaps there never were wheels to begin with. It's a dead hunk of machinery containing the faithful and stupid participants in a futile endeavor. So where are we to go, now that the failure of Amandaism is apparent? It's time to raise the alarm of anti-

Amandaism and be wary of future incarnations of Amandaism that may arise. The pretension of the movement lurks to be resuscitated at every corner and in every facet of the intellectual and artistic community. This must be stopped. There will be no pointless culture on our watch!

Look to meaning! Look to relevancy! Look to immediacy! Look to originality!

Amandaists convert!

Wake up and take notice of the petty pool in which you swim. It leaves you in obsolescence. You are an outdated version, a trivial database of awkward ideas.

Communities gather together and smash insignificance once and for all!!
